LAB SCHOOL CHANGES NAME

Will Be Known As The Marvin Pittman School
Dedication Next Sunday

The Laboratory school at Georgia Teachers College will officially become the Marvin Pittman School Sunday as it is dedicated in honor of the former G. T. C. president and widely-known educator, the late Dr. Marvin S. Pittman.

Another former president, Dr. Judson Ward, now dean of arts and sciences at Emory University, will deliver the dedicatory address in the program scheduled Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the Lab school auditorium.

St. Matthew's Women Day Of Recollection

The ladies of St. Matthew's Church attended the third annual Day of Recollection at the church last Saturday. Ten ladies of the parish put aside their usual routine for the day and spent their time in prayerful reflection.

The Day of Recollection began with Holy Mass at 8 a. m. Father Hughes gave the ladies three conferences in the church, two in the morning and one in the afternoon. All the ladies seemed to be spiritually refreshed by this day of prayer.

A short business meeting was held at the end of the last conference in the afternoon. Officers were elected for the coming year. The following were chosen: Mrs. Joseph Fawcett, president; Mrs. Joseph Allen, secretary; and Mrs. Zolton Farkas, treasurer.

H. D. CLUBS SHORT COURSE

Have Industries Course At Warnock Community Friday, April 29th

Home Demonstration Club members from over the county met at the Warnock Community House, Friday, April 29, for their Annual Home Industries Short Course.

The ladies of the Warnock Club were hostesses for the day. They arranged beautiful flowers and welcomed the group with a nice smile.

Mrs. Ester Bland, Council Home Industries Chairman, presided and gave a very sweet devotional. Then the exchange of ideas began.

Of course, that is the purpose of the meeting and the reason to get in is to bring a demonstration to present. They were all most interesting and very informative. Handicrafts, book ends, ear rings and numerous other things. Every one contributed very worthwhile ideas. It was voted unanimously to have it each year.

The group giving demonstrations were: Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. E. L. Womack, Mrs. E. L. Proctor, Mrs. Dan Lingo, Mrs. Paul Groover, Mrs. Comer Bird, Miss May Kennedy, Mrs. George Fuller, Mrs. Ester Bland, Mrs. Roland Moore, Mrs. Russell Hodges, Mrs. J. E. Rowland, Jr., Mrs. Donnie Kennedy, Mrs. M. P. Martin, Sr., Mrs. Buie Williams, Mrs. Henry Quattlebaum, Mrs. E. B. Brantley, Mrs. John Waters, Mrs. Jim McCormick, Mrs. W. R. Anderson, Mrs. Lester Atkins, Mrs. Delmar Rushing, Jr., Mrs. Delmas Rushing, Sr., Mrs. Hudson Godbee, Mrs. E. W. Campbell, Miss Georgia Hagin, Mrs. L. J. Holloway, Mrs. J. V. Tillman, Mrs. Queen Kennedy, Mrs. Ralph Moore, Mrs. Wade Hodges, Mrs. E. G. Blackburn, Mrs. Emmett Scott, Mrs. Allen Lanier.

Mrs. Dorothy Whitehead, Home Demonstration Agent, displayed an exhibit of very interesting crafts from Nashville, Tenn., many of which will make in the future.

Elmer Baptist Church V. B. S. June 13-17

The Vacation Bible School at Elmer Baptist Church will be conducted June 13-17. Session will be held each afternoon, 2:30-5:00 p. m.

By the Ladies Circle with the meeting Wednesday, May 4th, Elmer Baptist Church voted to change the weekly prayer service from 8:00 a. m. to 8:15 a. m. The change to be effective May 12th.

Elementary Pupils At Science Fair

Many Bulloch County elementary school pupils represented this county at the annual First District Elementary Science Fair held in Savannah, April 21-23.

The fair was held at Armstrong Junior College in conjunction with the State High School Science Fair.

The purpose of this annual event is to encourage better science programs in the elementary schools.

W. O. W. TO HAVE SUPPER NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

Woodmen of the World Camp No. 158 will have a chicken supper Thursday night, May 19th at the Elmer Baptist Church.

Service will be presented to eligible members and the "4 Plates" from G. T. C. will furnish the entertainment.

WAS THIS YOU?

You are a matron. You have one son. Your husband is in business for himself. You live with your father. You moved here from a nearby city about four years ago.

If the lady described all that at the Bulloch Times office, 25 School Street, we will give you two tickets to the picture "A Man Called Peter" showing Thursday and Friday at the Georgia Theatre.

After receiving her tickets, if the lady will call at the Statesboro Floral Shop she will be given a lovely bouquet with compliments of Bill Holloway, the proprietor. For a free trial styling call Christine's Beauty Shop for an appointment. The lady described last week was Mrs. E. L. Barnes.

SUNDAY IS SOIL STEWARDSHIP

May 15th To Be Observed Throughout The Nation With Special Services

In thousands of churches throughout the nation May 15 will be observed as Soil Stewardship Sunday. Pastors will emphasize with special sermons the importance of soil and water conservation and the responsibilities of their people as stewards of these resources.

Farm and Ranch farm magazine has been sponsoring for several years Soil Stewardship Sunday in some of the southeastern states, but this year the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts is sponsoring this special day in all the states of the nation.

The state office of the Soil Conservation Service is distributing "ministers' packets" through the area, and work units of the Soil Conservation Service to ministers who are interested in participation in this program.

The Georgia Soil Conservation District Supervisors have sponsored Soil Stewardship Sunday for several years, and last year ministers delivered more than 300 sermons to 47,000 people.

Local Area Is Well Represented At Meet

Statesboro and Bulloch County were well represented at the meeting of the Georgia Soil Conservation District Supervisors in Atlanta yesterday.

The following were in attendance from this area: W. C. Hodges, president of the Bulloch County Farm Bureau; R. P. Mikell, E. T. Mullis, Mr. and Mrs. Sam L. Brannen, Henry S. Blitch, Mrs. Allen R. Lanier, Mrs. Emil Scott, E. L. Anderson, Jr., J. E. Hodges, W. L. McElveen, C. G. DeLoach, Jim H. Strickland, and Les Witte, representing the Bulloch Times.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of the U. S. House of Representatives, representing the Bulloch Times.

Prince H. Preston, Statesboro, introduced Speaker Rayburn. National attention was focused on Georgia when Speaker Rayburn addressed the gathering in celebration of the 20th anniversary of the Soil Conservation Service.

Each of these communities will be represented in the talent contest along with Denmark. Miss Hall stated that some of the numbers that won in the community and performance to the extent she is not sure who will be in several numbers. She would not at the moment be sure of the contestants because of some changes, nor would she say what each group would do.

The winners here Friday night will be a stand still for some time and through his recommendation to Governor Marvin Col. LeRoy Cowart, Statesboro, was appointed Director of the Bulloch County Soil Conservation District.

Mr. Cowart stated at a recent meeting of the Lions Club that the citizens in this area are too complacent and went on to say that Statesboro and Bulloch County is considered a critical area.

The following program is planned for May 17 and should receive the whole-hearted support of this area:

9:30 A. M.—Registration, Welcoming.

10:00 A. M.—Invocation, Welcome.

Mrs. Gertrude Harris, Chairman, State Women's Advisory Committee for Civil Defense.

The Honorable W. B. Bowen, Mayor, City of Statesboro.

Col. LeRoy Cowart, Director, Statesboro and Bulloch County Soil Conservation District.

Hoyle R. Yandle, Director, Southeastern Area of State Civil Defense.

Dr. Dora Sharp Circle with Mrs. V. C. Huggins, 241 Donaldson St.

Dorothy K. Walker Circle with Mrs. John W. Davis, 608 E. Jones Ave.

Inez Williams Circle with Mrs. Jerry Johnson, W. Parrish St.

Sunday Is God's Thermostat—McClain

"You can wash pots and pans to the glory of God," says Dr. Roy McClain in his talk to Baptist Hour radio listeners Sunday, "But," he says, "there is no substitute for formal worship. The Sabbath makes far more sense than man is inclined to admit. The day to be set aside is God's thermostat that keeps the body from burning out and times over during that refueling of the soul."

Dr. McClain will be heard on station W

Farm Bureau Activities

By Byron Dyer

Misses Jane and Julie Bragg and their mother, Mrs. Bragg, were winners of the Farm Bureau contest.

at the Statesboro High School auditorium Friday night. Andie Sue and Raymond Waters placed second in the contest with a piano duo.

Rev. Cliff Davis led the invocation to open the Denmark meeting. Isaac Bunce, their president, brought up a number of items that needed attention around the building.

T. Martin and his committee on tables to procure paint for them. R. Miller was asked to get the water pump repaired. Then to work out something relative to a system of keeping the building clean and in repair.

W. Jones to work with Mr. Miller and the others on the details and to have something worked out for posting at the next meeting.

Mrs. Martin and Mrs. W. H. Zetterer had charge of the program. Mrs. V. J. Rowe and Rev. and Mrs. Davis were judges.

J. H. Wyatt, president of the Brooklet chapter, advised the group he would prepare a list for certain ones to help work on the cancer drive.

John Crowley, chairman of the Leefield H. D. Club.

May Meeting

The Leefield Home Demonstration Club met on May 3rd in the community house.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Dan Hagan. Mrs. Whitehead introduced Mrs. Sara Thigpen to the members of the club. Mrs. Thigpen is to work with the club.

Several of the ladies made copy tooling bookends and pictures. This was very interesting and all enjoyed the work.

The meeting at Epworth-by-the-Sea on St. Simons Island was discussed. Mrs. Roland Moore reported the club. This meeting was on Friday, May 6. Miss Iris Davenport, from Nashville, Tenn. discussed clothing and the way to make the appearance attractive.

The State Council meeting will be in Athens, from June 7th, to the 11th. Mrs. Dan Hagan will represent the club.

Mrs. O'Neill Scott and Mrs. Clinton Williams, the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

The bat is the only animal mammal that can fly. The bat's wings are made of thin skin. Bats guide their movement in the dark by a sense of hearing; so states the World Book Encyclopedia.

Soil and Water Conservation News

By E. T. "RED" MULLIS
Soil Conservation Service

Sunday, May 15, has been designated as a "Soil Stewardship Sunday" by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

The Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District is cooperating with the National Association in promoting this vital project. As many ministers as possible have been contacted by a representative of the district, but in case many may not have been contacted, please come to the local Soil Conservation Service Office for material. Stewardship of our vital top soil is a very important part of the overall stewardship of ourselves as well as our possessions.

Q. W. Simmons has recently had complete soil and water conservation plans developed for his and Mrs. Simmons' farm. Mrs. Simmons' farm is located south of Boling and Mrs. Simmons' place is near Emmitt.

Each place include proper terraces and water disposal systems as well as ponds for water storage. Using each acre for what it is best suited and treating each acre according to its needs for protection, improvement and maximum use.

The Ranger listed some of the major forest fire laws which protect Bulloch County's 237,800 acres of forestland from wildfire. The laws are as follows:

1. No person shall allow a fire to cross from his own land onto land of another is guilty of a misdemeanor.

2. The landowner, although he does have a right to burn his own land if he so desires, still is responsible to see that fire does not burn to adjoining land of another without permission.

3. Landowner planning on burning his own land, must notify all other landowners whose land the fire might conceivably reach if it got out of control. The notification must be given at least 24 hours in advance.

4. Once he has set fire to his own land, the landowner is responsible to see that the fire does not become wild.

5. Landowners planning to burn also are required to play around the field or other area to be burned or to build some other suitable firebreak.

6. Violation of some of Georgia's forest fire laws constitutes a felony. These laws will be reported in a later issue of the Bulloch Times.

Central Of Georgia Aids Drought Areas

Recognizing the important food and income values of the livestock industry, the Central of Georgia and other railroads in the South have in recent months contributed more than a million and a quarter dollars through reduction in rates on hay shipped to drought areas.

These railroads, during the period October 1, 1954 through February 15, 1955, handled shipments of hay to drought areas in the South at 50 per cent of the normal rates. Figures show that these times along with their connecting carriers, saved the farmers a total of $1,295,140.

On shipments of hay terminating in Alabama, the contributions by the railroads amounted to $115,197, and for Georgia $211,650.

This hay was shipped to farmers in drought areas under an emergency aid program and the railroads were the biggest contributors, allowing farmers half of the regular freight rate. The government paid 45 per cent and the farmers paid the remaining 25 per cent.

About as good a defense as any when your back is to the wall is to say you don't know.

GEORGIA HAS 15,000 SHEEP NOW

New Source Of Income
Being Developed For Southern Farmers

A new source of income has been developed for Georgia farmers counting sheep.

In an interview printed in the May issue of The Progressive Farmer, Southwestern Farm Magazine, between Pete DeLoach, first sheep specialist of the Georgia Agricultural Extension Service and Virgil E. Adams, assistant editor of the magazine in Georgia, the article presents an experiment program in action.

Georgia now has around 15,000 sheep. At the end of the War between the States, it had 500,000. A half-million sheep in Georgia would mean an extra farm income of 10 to 12 million dollars.

Officials of the Agricultural Extension Service, the Georgia and Southern National Bank, and the Georgia Sheep Breeders Association believe the 500,000 goal can be reached in five years.

Fourteen farmers located in different sections of the state are taking part in the experiment program. Each will soon have a flock of 100 grade ewes, which did not cost the farmers a cent to purchase.

The bank is sponsoring the program with a total investment of $50,000. The farmer, to fulfill the goal, will sign a contract that he will provide enough year-round pasture, parasite control, keep a record on his project, and otherwise feed and care for the sheep according to extension recommendations. He will return 20 ewe lambs to the state sheep committee each year for five years.

These returned lambs will then be placed with senior 4-H club boys to start a sheep unit. At least 14 young farmers will be added to Georgia's sheep industry.

Besides the 14 farms, the program includes four purebred flocks, two Hampshire and two Suffolk, of 30 ewes and one ram each. Outstanding livestockmen chosen to give these flocks will have as their main purpose the producing of purebred rams for 4-H club boys to start a sheep unit.

The Progressive Farmer is published in five editions for the five district farming areas of the South.

NEGRO FARMERS HOLD MEETING

ASC Program And S. S. Laws Explained to Large Gathering Of Farmers

The 1954 amendments to the Social Security law which include farm workers, and the Old Age and Survivors Insurance which covers farm operators, are explained to a large gathering of farmers at the county court house in Statesboro, Ga., at 10 o'clock this morning.

At this meeting, B. M. Minnis, from the District Social Security office of Savannah explained these laws and gave assistance to some 100 farmers who signed up for it. County Agent M. M. Martin assisted with the meeting and it was felt that the meeting was a success in that it explained this type of meeting because too few farmers had given much thought to the new law.

Also at this meeting, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation ASC program was explained by M. P. Deal, County Supervisor ASC program. Mr. Deal told the farmers about the land measurement system and the importance of farmers staying within their farm quotas. He also explained the penalties that would be inflicted on those who do not
